Subject: approval of new PADEP monitoring site in Uniontown

Hi Alice,

Lori and I traveled to Fayette County on Thursday 12/21/17 for determination of approval for a new PADEP monitoring site in Uniontown. We met with Donno Torsello, an employee from the PADEP Southwest Regional office, two members from the proposed site property owner and a contractor who will be assisting in site construction.

The site will sit in a wide open area on the property of the First Christian Church, 800 New Salem Rd., Uniontown, PA. Pollutants to be measured at the site include O3, NO2, PM2.5, carbonyls and VOCs. Measurements taken ensured the distance to the nearest roadway combined with annual average daily traffic meets the CFR. Access to the site for EPA contractors will be uninhibited at all times of year and will not pose an issue for audits.

Based on our site visit we concur that the new site should be approved.

Howard
